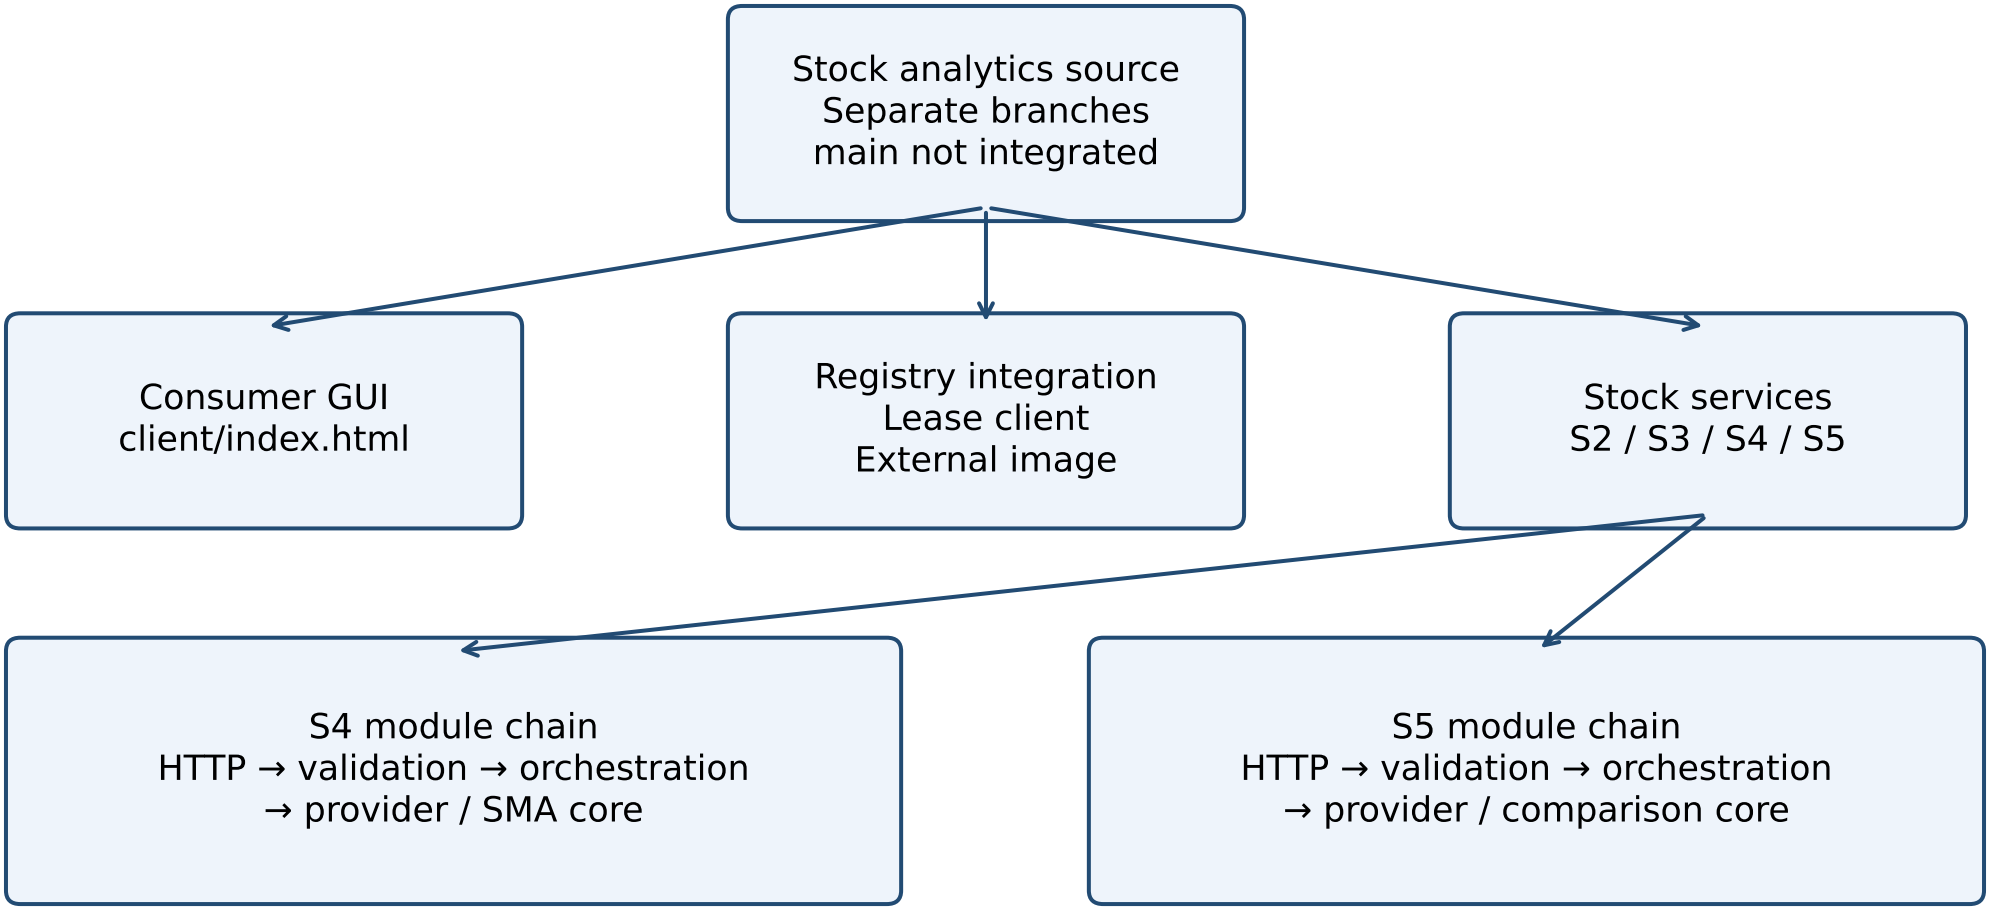
Module view: independently developed service units



Arrows from source root mean decomposition. Service chains mean code dependencies.
S4 and S5 do not import or call one another. Both contain the same lease-client module.